

Ancient Civilization Book Outline

Author:

Table of Contents:

Historical Facts
Character Development
Plot Development
Point of View

Author: _____

HISTORICAL FICTION STORY DETAILS

Setting: _____

THE REAL HISTORIC DETAILS I WANT TO INCLUDE IN MY STORY:

These may include: events, people, food, clothing, buildings, economy or other elements of the ancient civilization you researched. Choose five facts that will work well together in your story. For example, if the ancient civilization is Greece five historical details could be: the olympics, the stadion race, Zeus, drachma (money coin), and the agora (market).

1

2

3

4

5

Author: _____

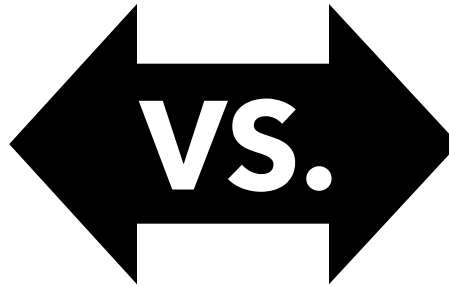

CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT:

Protagonist: The main character.

Name: _____

Age: _____

Gender: _____

Antagonist: The main force that creates conflict for the protagonist. Can be a person, organization or obstacle the protagonist must overcome.

Name: _____

Protagonist Personality Traits:

Protagonist Motivation: (Why they do what they do)

Protagonist Flaws and Quirks:

The Conflict: The problem with the antagonist that your main character must overcome:

PLOT DEVELOPMENT:

AUTHOR: _____

Rising Action

Events that build suspense and tension

Climax
The high of suspense and tension

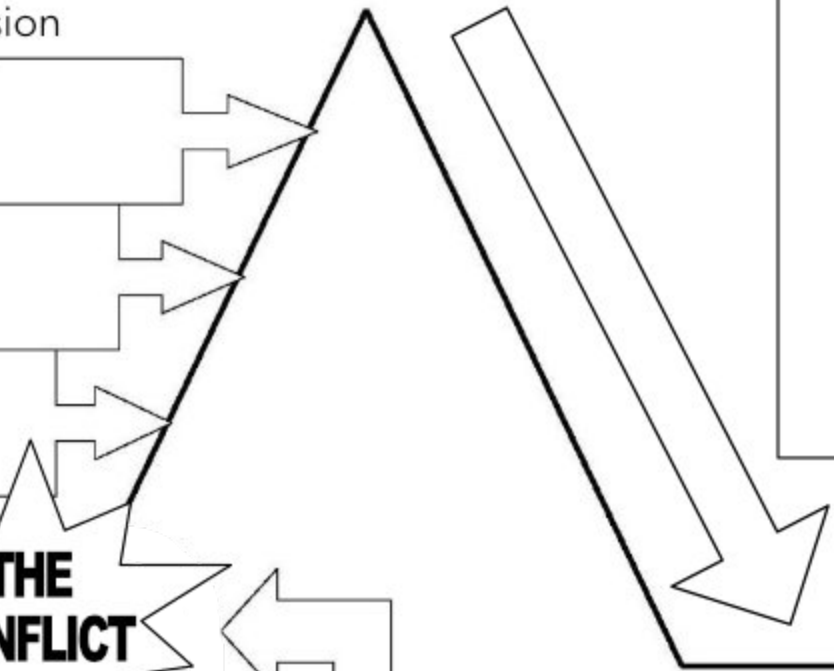

Falling Action
Decreasing tension

Setting:

Protagonist vs. Antagonist _____ vs. _____

Resolution
The end.

Author: _____

POINTS OF VIEW

Who is telling the story??

1ST PERSON	3RD PERSON
One of the characters is telling the story.	The author or narrator is telling the story.
Clue Words:	Clue Words:
I, My, Me, We, Our	He, She, They, Them, Their, His, Him, Her

In my ancient civilization story, I will be writing in the _____ person.

_____ is telling the story.

The clue words I will include are: _____